Intra-collegiate 'Debate & Elocution Competition' was held on July 17, 2014. Around 25 students participated. The winners were given preference for Debate & Elocution competitions of Youth Festival held by University of Mumbai. Nurturing the traditions, 'Bhondla' was organized on October 1, 2014. This festival marks the beginning of 'Hasta Nakshatra' i.e. the season when crops are ready in farms and women celebrate their creative talents by singing songs and making a circle around an elephant figure (symbol of fertility). The uniqueness of this event was marked by the lady teachers and girl students dancing together. The renowned newspaper Maharashtra Times highlighted this event the next day by publishing a report about it.

'Inter-collegiate Poem Recitation Program' was held on December 10th, 2014. Students were told to present their own poems on the topic 'College Life'. The event received tremendous response from colleges like Ruia, Ruparel and Sathye. The event was graced by the presence and guidance of the poetess Neeraja, who is an English teacher in our junior college.
