

Alumni Feedback on curriculum Report

R. A. Podar College of Commerce and Economics (Autonomous) boasts a diverse alumni community, with members excelling across various fields including industry, academics, finance, law, sports, music, and politics. The college values the feedback provided by its alumni, recognizing them as a crucial source of information. Their input offers valuable insights into academic programs and student services, playing a pivotal role in shaping strategic development policies and enhancing institutional accountability.

Objectives:

The primary objectives of this feedback report are to assess alumni perceptions regarding different aspects of their alma mater and to utilize this feedback to drive continuous improvement initiatives within the college. Specifically, the report aims to evaluate alumni opinions on curriculum relevance, teaching faculty quality, learning resources availability, teaching methodologies effectiveness, practical learning opportunities, career preparedness, placement and career guidance services, student counseling, extracurricular activities, and alumni relations and engagement.

Methodology:

The feedback was collected through an online mode using google form, leveraging alumni networks and communication platforms. A structured survey was distributed to gather quantitative data on various aspects of the college experience. The survey included Likert-scale questions to measure alumni perceptions, providing insights into their satisfaction levels across different categories. Additionally, qualitative feedback was solicited through open-ended questions, allowing alumni to express specific concerns or suggestions.
